100 YEARS AFTER

Filipinos poised to surpass Japanese in Hawaii

By R. C. Gonzalez Jr.

MANILA, Sept. 10 (Inquirer) — The Filipino community in Hawaii is poised to surpass the Japanese community in terms of population and economic influence.

The Japanese community in Hawaii has been the dominant force for decades, but the Filipino community has been growing rapidly in recent years.

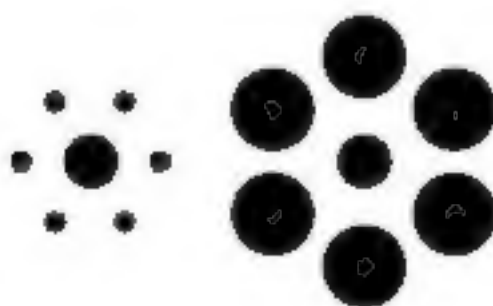

The Filipino community in Hawaii is now the second largest ethnic group, and it is expected to become the largest in the near future.

The Filipino community in Hawaii is also becoming more politically active, and it is expected to have a significant impact on the state's politics in the future.

Toxic fumes down Guimaras villagers

Pollution case filed vs Petron, ship firm

By Winston S. Reyes

Two environmental activists have filed a pollution case against the Guimaras branch of Petron Corp. and a shipping firm, alleging that they have been releasing toxic fumes that are causing health problems in the area.

Petron and Shell, who merged before the Philippine Environmental Protection Act of 1988, are the two main oil companies in the area. The activists, who are members of the Greenpeace Philippines, say that the fumes are causing health problems in the area, including asthma, cough, and other respiratory ailments.

The activists are demanding that the companies stop releasing the fumes and pay compensation to the affected residents.

Pro-GMA solons say WB report misleading

By James D.

MANILA (PDI) — GMA's solons say a report by the World Bank (WB) on the state of the Philippine media industry is misleading and does not reflect the reality of the industry's growth and development.

Making headway

Manila-based GMA's solons say the report is misleading because it does not reflect the reality of the industry's growth and development. They say the report is based on outdated information and does not take into account the significant progress made by the industry in recent years.

The report, which was released last week, states that the Philippine media industry is still in its infancy and that there is a need for more investment and development. GMA's solons say this is not the case and that the industry has already reached a level of maturity.

Classroom gains

GMA's solons say the report is misleading because it does not reflect the reality of the industry's growth and development. They say the report is based on outdated information and does not take into account the significant progress made by the industry in recent years.

More expansion

GMA's solons say the report is misleading because it does not reflect the reality of the industry's growth and development. They say the report is based on outdated information and does not take into account the significant progress made by the industry in recent years.

Man Under MHI

Man Under MHI is a new initiative by the Philippine Daily Inquirer to provide more information and news to its readers. It is a free service that is available to all readers.

The report, which was released last week, states that the Philippine media industry is still in its infancy and that there is a need for more investment and development.

GMA's solons say this is not the case and that the industry has already reached a level of maturity. They say the report is based on outdated information and does not take into account the significant progress made by the industry in recent years.

Admission not a surprise

GMA's solons say the report is misleading because it does not reflect the reality of the industry's growth and development. They say the report is based on outdated information and does not take into account the significant progress made by the industry in recent years.

Business development and marketing is critical to the success of a company. It is the process of identifying and creating new opportunities for growth and expansion. This can be done through a variety of methods, including market
research, product development, and sales promotion.

Women's group lists 58 kids victims of killings

A women's group in Marikina City has listed 58 children as victims of killings in the area. The group, which is part of a larger organization, has been working to identify and document the victims of the Marikina killings. The list includes the names and ages of the children, as well as the locations where they were found. The group is calling for justice and compensation for the victims and their families.

Yet hospital nursing staff pay tribute to the leader

The nursing staff of a hospital in Marikina City have paid tribute to their leader, who has been instrumental in improving the quality of patient care. The staff has organized a ceremony to honor the leader for his dedication and hard work. The leader has been praised for his ability to inspire and motivate the staff, as well as for his commitment to the hospital's mission. The ceremony was attended by many guests, including family members and friends of the leader.

Marinduque oil sludge puzzles provincial execs

Provincial executives in Marinduque are puzzled by the presence of oil sludge in the area. The sludge was found in a body of water, and its origin is unknown. The executives are trying to determine how the sludge got there and what it might be doing to the environment. They are also trying to identify the responsible party and seek compensation for the damage. The sludge is a dark, thick substance that has been found in several locations. It is believed to be a byproduct of an oil spill or a similar incident.

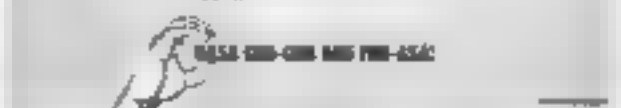

The photograph shows a large, dark, irregular shape, possibly a piece of land or a large object, in a body of water. The shape is dark and has a rough, uneven edge. The water is calm, and the background is a light, hazy sky.

Israel panel to investigate handling of Lebanon war

By The Associated Press

TEL AVIV, Israel (AP) — A panel of senior Israeli officials and military leaders will investigate the handling of the Lebanon war, a source familiar with the matter said Tuesday.

The panel, headed by former Defense Minister Ariel Sharon, will look into the military's performance during the conflict, which began in 1982 and ended in 1985. The source said the panel will also examine the political and diplomatic aspects of the war.

The investigation is expected to be a thorough one, and could lead to the resignation of some of the top military and political figures involved in the war. The source said the panel will report its findings to the government in the coming weeks.

Rivals to copy Bud success

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON (AP) — As Budweiser's success in the beer market grows, other major breweries are looking for ways to copy its formula, industry executives say.

The success of Budweiser, which has been a major force in the beer market for decades, has led to a surge in sales. Other breweries are now looking for ways to compete with Budweiser's success.

It is a good idea to have a written plan for your business. This plan should include a description of your business, its goals, and the steps you will take to achieve them. It should also include a budget and a timeline for your business. Having a plan will help you stay focused and motivated, and it will also help you to attract investors and lenders.

It is important to note that the results of this study are based on a cross-sectional design. This limitation may affect the generalizability of the findings to other populations and settings.

TV

July

After a long hiatus, the ABC network is set to launch a new series, "The Mentalist," which will feature a former police officer who uses his "extraordinary" abilities to solve crimes.

The series is set to premiere in the fall, and will feature a cast of talented actors. The show is expected to be a hit, and will provide a new addition to the ABC lineup.
